2019 DOC'S RANCH VINEYARD PINOT NOIR PINOT NOIR, SONOMA COAST

Doc's Ranch is the second estate vineyard within the Cobb Wines portfolio. Situated on the same ridge as Coastlands, just three miles from the Pacific, Doc's Ranch shares a similar elevation and geological profile. Doc's Ranch has a small one-acre parcel of Swan clone that was planted in 1998, with the remaining 7.8 acres of Calera, Pommard, and 114 with a one-acre parcel of Chardonnay planted in 2011. Winemaker Ross Cobb farms this site alongside Coastlands Vineyard. Planted to the eastern side of the ridge, Doc's Ranch is sheltered from the harsh winds coming off the Pacific. This extra warmth and different clonal material have proven to showcase precise wines with loads of electricity on the palate.

Medium ruby, the 2019 Pinot Noir Doc's Ranch opens with pomegranate, rhubarb and raspberry preserves accented by tones of cinnamon, blood orange, dried sage, potpourri and bitters, offering more nuance with each return to the glass. The palate surprises with its sheer intensity of fruit, supported by ubiquitous, sandy tannins and seamless acidity, finishing long and spicy. Drinking window: 2023 - 2037
